Robert Heddleston died 7th October 1819, aged 62.
He was buried on 10th October 1819
[taken from Taylors Parish Record for Burial 1813-1865 Vol: 15]

He is recorded on his tombstone as:
Officer of the Excise (no records kept of individual Officers at this time.)

Note: Officer of the Excise was an elected official who collected the Excise Duty payable on many products during the late 1700s and throughout the1800s. It was applicable to any sale or manufacture of certain goods, such as spirits, beers, cider and Perry products as well as tobacco. The wide production and use of barley and other crops to brew malt in a major coaching centre such as Stony Stratford would have been extensive and taxed. A fixed tax could also be levied on an occupation such as attorney of law, doctors and other professional members of the town.

Sibbie

In memory of Sibbie the wife of John Horn who departed this life the 24th day of January 1736 in the 52nd year of her age

Further information: entry in [Taylors Parish Records of Burial 1715-1738 Volume 4] shows Sibylla wife of Mr Charles Horn was buried on the 26th January 1736 aged 52 years.

Entry in [Taylors Parish Records of Marriages1715-1738 Volume 4] shows Mr. Charles Horn and Mrs. Sibylla Ayres were married by licence on 10th April 1732

It is unusual for someone at this period of time to be referred to in the PRs as MR unless they are of an upper class. The marriage entry also uses MR and MRS suggesting that Sibylla is a widow. The stone is now illegible so John may have been read as Charles.

The Licence, which would have told more about the couple is not at the Centre for Bucks Studies. However, Mr Horn has called his late wife 'Sibbie', rather than the formal Sibylla on the gravestone which suggests they are not of the gentry and Sibbie is a given name found amongst the Gypsy community. Her surname Ayres is also found amongst the travelling community and Horn is a variant of Hearn, which is also a Gypsy surname, so one wonders if this couple were Gypsies who frequently stopped at Stony on their travels. If the marriage licence can be found it could shed further light on them.

There is mention of a Richard WHITMAY as the innkeeper of The Talbot Inn from the1753 to 1761,during which time DICK TURPIN, the notorious highwayman,is reputed to have stayed at the inn whilst fleeing from the law. It is said that when the officers of the law were heard to be arriving at the town, the innkeeper hid Dick Turpin in the attics and winched his horse up into the attics as well,whilst the inn was searched. Thus the highwayman escaped to continue his breakneck journey to York.

Whilst it is not known whether Richard Whitmay was buried in the Mary Magdalene graveyard, he is recorded in the parish records as having died on 21st April 1762.

The above information was noted in Historic Inns of Stony Stratford by authors Bryan Dunleavy, Ken Daniels and Andy Powell.

2. Also in Addition to the above: The Angel (demolished 1930s)

James HUDSON (see No: 140) is listed in Historic Trades Directory of Stony Stratford as the proprietor of The Angel, High Street in 1872.

Mary Meads is also listed in the above Directory as the proprietor of The Angel, High Street in 1824 and 1832.

3. Also in Addition to the above: The Rising Sun (Photo 147.H.Liggins.061)

Richard Liggins (see No: 061) was recorded as the innkeeper of The Rising Sun in the Historic Trades Directory of Stony Stratford. The Inn was first registered in 1753 and was closed in 1970. Originally run by Solomon Barley and Ann Wilcocks, it was then taken over by a William HUDSON (see No: 140): and then by a Joseph MYCOCK: it was then taken over by a DANIEL ADKINS and thereafter a Henry HARRIS, followed by John WilliamS and eventually to a Thomas Green of Stony Stratford in 1809.

The above information was mentioned in the book Historic Inns of Stony Stratford by Bryan Dunleavy, Ken Daniels and Andy Powell.
